Accommodation Terms for Guests Aged 18 and Over

The following provisions apply to stays of guests under the age of 18 at Kirman Premium properties

1. Accommodation with Parents

If the mother and father are legally married and are not legally separated, no parental consent form is required for the child to stay with either parent. If both parents stay at the property during the same period, this provision remains unchanged regardless of whether the child and the parents stay in the same room or in different rooms. If the parents are legally separated, a notarized consent form from the other parent is required; however, if sole custody or joint custody is documented through an official document, no additional consent form is required.

2. Accommodation with Third Parties

If the child stays with relatives or third parties without their parents, the following documents must be presented: a notarized parental consent form, a notarized accommodation permission/consent document, and copies of the parents' identification documents. The permission document must clearly specify the details of the child and the accompanying person, the name of the property, and the dates of stay.

3. Special Circumstances

The death of one parent, the absence of custody rights, or any legal circumstance preventing a parent from providing consent must be proven by a valid official document.

4. Documentation and Admission Requirements

All required documents must be complete and valid and, where necessary, notarized, and must be presented at check-in. If the documents are incomplete, invalid, or inconsistent with the reservation details, Kirman Premium reserves the right to refuse accommodation to guests under the age of 18.

5. Responsibility of Tour Operators / Travel Agencies

Tour operators and/or travel agencies are expected to provide guests with clear and appropriate information regarding the relevant documentation and accommodation requirements at the time of booking, through both online and offline sales channels. They are also expected to inform any relevant sub-agencies and sales channels accordingly, where applicable. Even if the relevant information has been provided, Kirman Premium reserves the right to
